"Drawing on interviews conducted throughout New York City, Black feminist criminologist Janet Garcia-Hallett shares the traditionally silenced voices of formerly incarcerated mothers of color. Patriarchy, misogyny, and systemic racism marginalize and criminalize these mothers, pushing them into the grasp of penal control and exacerbating their racialized and gendered oppression after incarceration. Invisible Mothers exposes the difficult realities that African American, West Indian, and Latina mothers experience when reentering the community after incarceration and navigating motherhood. Armed with critical insight, Invisible Mothers demonstrates the paradox of visibility: social institutions treat mothers of color as invisible, restricting them from equal opportunities, and simultaneously as hypervisible, penalizing them for the ways they survive their marginalization. Though formerly incarcerated mothers of color are forced to live in a state of disempowerment and hypersurveillance, Invisible Mothers reveals and contests their marginalization and highlights how mothers of color perform motherwork on their own terms"--

The devil Goes To Work Too masterfully weaves life's colorful array of trials through the fabric of scriptural truth, forming a tapestry of hope. Such is the hope we find in Genesis 50:20 You intended to harm me, but God intended it for good to accomplish what is now being done, the saving of many lives. Like Carlos Taylor, you too can equip yourself with the knowledge that Christ's life and resurrection gives purpose to our existence. Through Christ's redemptive Gospel, we have within us the unique power to arm ourselves with tools to defeat the devil. This is good news! God is everywhere and His love for us is immeasurable. As The devil Goes To Work Too illustrates, nothing in our lives, including work, is excluded from His purview. The question lies in whether or not we trust Him for the next miraculous work He's planned for our life. God challenges us to ask ourselves whether or not we were willing to go wherever He leads us without fear or reservation. In Romans 8:28, Scripture reminds us that God is at work in all things for our good.
